

COULD NOT STAND ON FEET

Mrs. Baker So Weak—Could Not Do Her Work—Found Relief In Novel Way.

Adrian, Mich. — "I suffered terribly with female weakness and backache and got so weak that I could hardly do my work. When I washed my dishes I had to sit down and when I would sweep the floor I would get so weak that I would have to get a drink every few minutes, and before I did my dusting I would have to lie down. I got so poorly that my folks thought I was going into consumption. One day I found a piece of paper blowing around the yard and I picked it up and read it. It said 'Saved from the Grave,' and told what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for women. I showed it to my husband and he said, 'Why don't you try it?' So I did, and after I had taken two bottles I felt better and I said to my husband, 'I don't need any more,' and he said 'You had better take it a little longer anyway.' So I took it for three months and got well and strong." —Mrs. ALONZO E. BAKER, 9 Tecumseh St., Adrian, Mich.

KILLS WIFE AND SON; SLASHES BABY, THEN ENDS HIS LIFE

Double Murder Ends Mother's Desperate Battle to Save Her Child's Life—Infant Probably Will Recover.

New York, Nov. 5.—Crazed with despair because of his wretched physical condition, Edward McManus, 31, early yesterday killed his wife, Gertrude, 31, and his son, William, 4, by cutting their throats with a razor. He then killed himself by the same method after slashing his 2-month-old daughter, Gertrude Mary. The infant was only slightly wounded about the throat and will recover.

Mrs. McManus fled down the stairway of the Morton apartment on Washington Heights to her brother-in-law's apartment on the floor below. McManus followed, slashing at her throat until she dropped unconscious just inside the doorway.

In the struggle in the stairway McManus had wrested the 4-year-old boy from his mother's arms. He hacked the boy's throat while the child was on his knees in the hallway shrieking in fright. Then McManus ran back to his apartment, slashed wildly at the sleeping infant in the baby's crib and cut his own throat.

McManus was dismissed from a hospital a few days ago after two operations.

WRANGLES IN COURT

Counsel for the Defense in the New Haven Case Enter Some Objections

GOVERNMENT IS SUSTAINED

More Correspondence Relating to Past "Deals" Is Read to the Jury

New York, Nov. 5.—Another wrangle as to whether the government should be required to call Percy R. Todd, former vice president of the New York, New Haven & Hartford railway, marked the resumption yesterday of the trial of the 11 present and former directors of the road under the Sherman anti-trust law.

The government announced Wednesday that it would not call Mr. Todd to identify letters he had written as it did not care "to undervalue" him as a witness. Counsel said they desired to prove only the authenticity of the letters, which would be done by another witness.

Attorneys for the defense protested yesterday that Mr. Todd should be required to appear as the identifying witness so that they might cross examine him on the contents of the letters.

"We do not care to prove our case by a co-conspirator," said R. L. Batts of counsel for the government.

Judge Hunt ruled in favor of the government. James W. Osborne, another government attorney then resumed the reading of letters from the files of the New Haven, through which it hopes to prove that the road crushed out the competition of the Joy Steamship line.

A letter from R. T. Haskins, general traffic manager of the Metropolitan Steamship company, to Mr. Todd, in June, 1901, said he had informed a friend of his in reference to the Joy line interests that "their hides would be taken off and laid out on the Long Island shore to dry, to be a warning that future enterprises of this kind might be avoided. It looks to me as though they were getting pretty tired. They are tired of losing; you are hitting them hard on this Providence business."

Attorneys for the defense protested that the letter was not relevant as the Metropolitan Steamship company was then an independent line. Judge Hunt declined to entertain the objection, on the ground that the letter was an answer to a request from Todd for information. The letter further spoke of the Joy line's poor financial condition at this time.

In July Haskins wrote to Todd suggesting that he issue an annual pass on the New Haven to Captain Horatio Hall of the Dominion line for refusing to charter a steamboat of that line to the Joy line. This, according to another letter, was done.

Letters were read in relation to attempts of the Joy line to lease steamers from the Florida East Coast Railway company and John M. Hall, then president of the New Haven, wrote to William Rockefeller asking him to take up the matter with Henry M. Flagler, owner of the Florida East Coast. Hall stated that he did not believe Flagler would care to have his company lease its boats to the Joy line in opposition to the New Haven. The letter was referred to Flagler and Flagler replied that he had officially retired from the Florida East Coast, J. R. Parrott succeeding him as president, but Flagler said he would be very glad to do what he could. Later Parrott assured Hall that nothing would be done to interfere with New Haven interests, especially where Hall was personally affected. The Joy line, the correspondence seemed to show, was also blocked in an attempt to lease a steamer from the Long Island Railroad company.

Captain Dyer, who owned a lighter, used to keep it idle it appeared. Another letter suggested that sugar would be carried for the American Sugar Refining company for nothing rather than permit the Joy line to have the business.

A BIG GUN.
United States Has Largest of Class in World.

Watertown, Mass., Nov. 5.—A 16-inch gun, said to be the largest of its class in the world, which the United States arsenal here has been mounting for several months, left yesterday on a train of specially constructed cars for the proving grounds at Sandy Hook.

Ultimately it will be used in the Panama canal fortifications. Orders were issued by the Boston & Maine railroad to have all lights in the Hooseac tunnel extinguished while the train was passing through, to prevent the possibility of causing a short circuit by the presence of such a large amount of steel.

The gun was cast at the government arsenal at Watervliet, N. Y.

RUSSIAN WOULD BE MORE FRIENDLY

Meeting in Petrograd to Create Better Relations with America Proves a Success.

Petrograd, Nov. 5.—The first public meeting of the new society for promoting mutual friendly relations between Russia and America, was in every way a success. The large hall in which the meeting was held was crowded, even the standing room being occupied. The remarks of Baron Rosen, Professor Paul S. Millyukoff, Professor Maxim Kovalevsky, F. L. Rodichoff, Nicholas Tougou-Banovsky and others were warmly applauded. The general trend of the addresses was to the effect that America was able to exert great influence upon the war because of her economic power, and that Russia could profit from a study of American ideas and policies. A notable feature of the meeting was the declaration by M. Rodichoff that he was firmly convinced that the war would be won by the side that deserved to win because of the moral principles on which it stood.

SEAMAN'S LAW AT SEA.

Not, However, Under Full Sail; Some Modifications.

Washington, Nov. 5.—The new seaman's law regulating conditions of service on all American merchant vessels not admitted to registry under the foreign registry act was in effect yesterday. Fear of shipping interests, however, that the law would operate to delay schedules of vessels due to leave ports yesterday were dispelled by an order issued by Acting Secretary Thurman of the department of commerce. This order provides that vessels which had made a bona fide effort to comply with the requirements of the law would be allowed to clear despite their inability to secure a crew in strict accordance with the act.

The provision of the new law will not be applicable to foreign vessels admitted to registry under the recent foreign registry act until Sept. 4, 1916. The law insofar as it is applicable to foreign vessels will be effective as to treaty nations on July 1, 1916, and as to other nations on March 4, 1916.

GET IT FIRST—NOT LAST

When a cold grips your system it is convincing proof that your condition is weakened—remember that. It is risky indeed to simply trust your strength to throw it off, because neglected colds have brought more serious sickness than any other one thing, while weakening cathartics and stimulating syrups are often depressing and dangerous.

The one best treatment for any cold—the one so often relied on when others fail, is the powerful blood-nourishment in Scott's Emulsion, which feeds the very sources of bodily strength to suppress the present cold and generate strength to thwart further sickness. Get Scott's first, not last—and insist on the genuine—always free from alcohol and injurious drugs.
